AP Chinese · Paper C

Learner paper · Traditional Chinese

Independent practice for the 2027 format. 55 multiple-choice questions and 4 free-response tasks. Not an official College Board paper or an AP 1–5 score prediction.

Order: speaking, writing, listening, reading. Writing shares 30 minutes; listening 25 minutes; reading 40 minutes. Speaking: 3-minute preparation + 3-minute presentation; four Q&A prompts, twice each, followed by 40-second responses.

The official 2027 course-project packet is scheduled for January 2027. The speaking scenario in this paper is original practice, not that official packet.

Use the local practice workspace for recording and the MP3 files for listening. No listening transcript or Q&A prompt is printed in the learner paper.

Before the speaking section: research preparation

Before speaking, investigate how a musical tradition in a Chinese-speaking cultural context relates to a place or social occasion. Consult at least two identifiable sources. Explain a practice/perspective relationship, compare contexts, and distinguish documented information from interpretation. These source leads support independent research, not the unreleased official 2027 project packet.

UNESCO: Hua’er

https://ich.unesco.org/en/RL/hua-er-00211

UNESCO 的花兒條目介紹了甘肅、青海等地多個民族羣體共享的歌唱傳統。歌詞可按約定方式即興發揮，表達日常經歷、個人情感等；歌唱既可能發生在勞作和路途中，也有花兒節等正式場合。可以研究：同一傳統進入不同場合時，參與者、聽衆和表達機會怎樣變化？這些是進一步研究的問題，不是條目已經證明的統一答案。

UNESCO: Urtiin Duu, traditional folk long song

https://ich.unesco.org/en/RL/urtiin-duu-traditional-folk-long-song-00115

UNESCO 的長調條目介紹了中國與蒙古國共同列入名錄的音樂傳統，提到婚禮等重要慶祝場合、與牧業生活的聯繫，以及不同地區的風格。可以繼續研究：在一種具體場合裏，演唱怎樣參與人與人的關係？資料涉及的區域和場合有範圍，不能據此認爲所有演出都相同，也不能把一次舞臺錄像當成全部生活實踐。

Prepare brief source-based notes in your own words. These are practice notes, not an official PPR submission.

Free response 1 · Project presentation

Present your research on a musical tradition and its relationship to a place or social occasion in a Chinese-speaking cultural context. Explain a specific practice and a cultural perspective using identifiable sources. Compare a familiar setting or reflect on what could change in another setting, and acknowledge a limit of your evidence. Speak in Chinese.

請介紹你研究的一種音樂傳統，以及它與華語文化情境中某個地點或社會場合的關係。用可辨認來源說明具體實踐與文化觀念的聯繫，比較一種熟悉的情境，或反思換一個場合可能發生的變化，並指出證據的侷限。請用中文作答。

Manual analytic review: 11 points maximum. No automatic grade.

Free response 2 · Project Q&A

Answer four questions in Chinese about your research on music, place, and occasion. Each question is heard twice, followed by forty seconds to respond. All four responses receive one analytic review together.

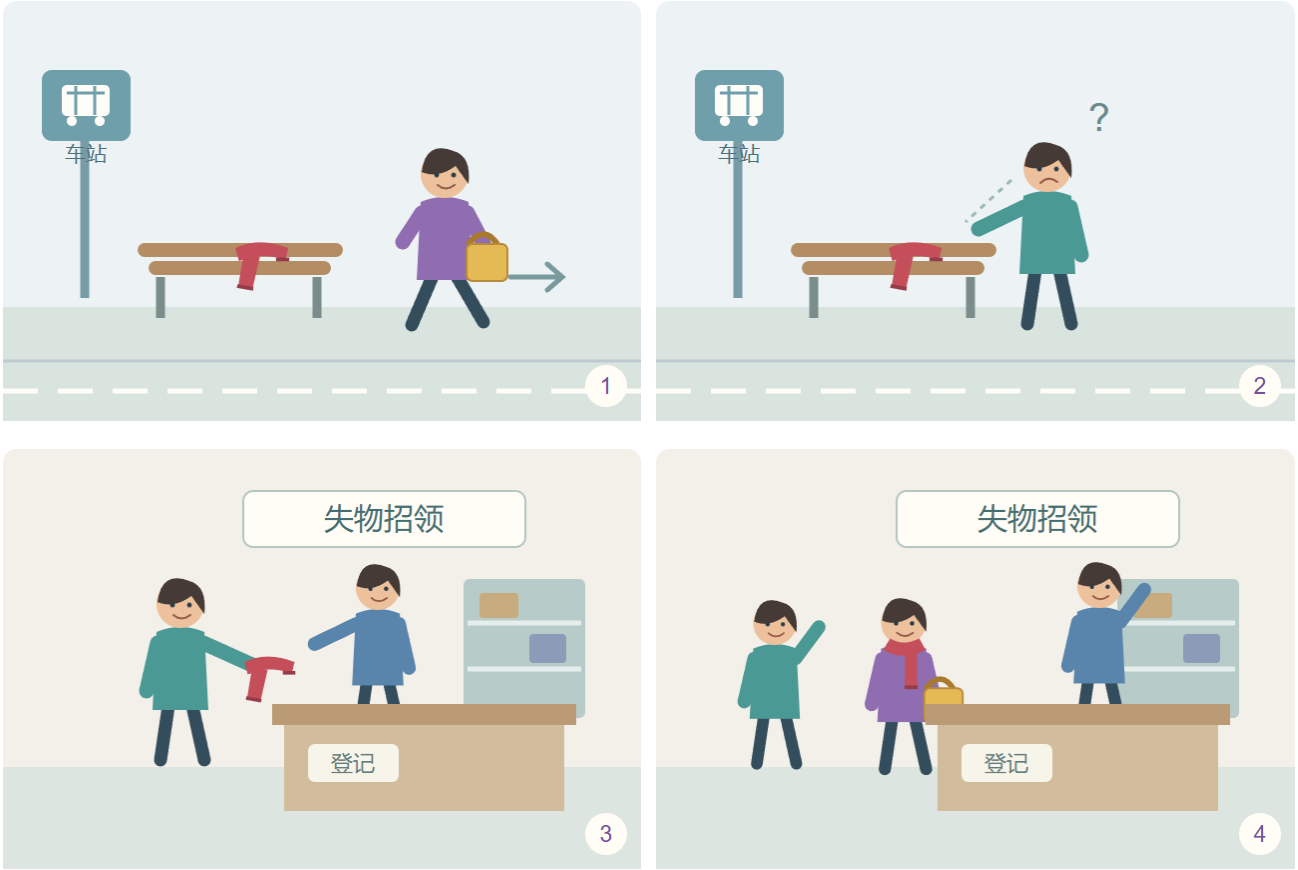

Manual analytic review: 9 points maximum. No automatic grade.

One 9-point profile for the complete four-response exchange; not 36 points.

Free response 3 · Story narration

Write a complete story in Chinese using all four pictures in order. Explain the loss, the actions that follow, and the resolution. You may choose names and add plausible details consistent with the pictures.

請按順序使用全部四幅圖，用中文寫一個完整故事，交代物品遺失、之後的行動與解決結果。可以自定人物姓名，並補充符合畫面順序的合理細節。

Write your response on additional paper. Both writing tasks share one 30-minute clock. Use additional paper as needed.

Manual analytic review: 8 points maximum. No automatic grade.

Free response 4 · Email response

Reply in Chinese to the film-club coordinator. Address the requests, explain your choices, and ask a relevant preparation question. Use an appropriate email format.

校園電影社｜放映後的交流

同學你好！我們下月準備放映幾部學生拍攝的生活短片，希望觀衆看完後能提出有幫助的意見，而不只是給作品排個名次。你建議用什麼方式收集和交流反饋？請說明理由，以及你願意負責哪項工作。

有些觀衆不習慣當衆發言，中文表達能力也不同，你會怎樣讓他們參與？如果兩位觀衆對同一段畫面的理解相反，你建議怎樣處理這些意見？最後，請提出一個開始準備前需要向我們確認的問題。

期待你的回覆！

協調員　蘇老師

Write your response on additional paper. Both writing tasks share one 30-minute clock. Use additional paper as needed.

Manual analytic review: 8 points maximum. No automatic grade.

Listening · L1

Choosing a recording room

Questions 1–5

Use audio clip L1 or the corresponding part of the 25-minute practice track.

校園媒體中心錄音室預約表

房間	人數上限	單次使用上限	每次費用
青禾室	2人	30分鐘	免費
竹影室	3人	60分鐘	20元
松風室	5人	60分鐘	20元
榆林室	6人	90分鐘	35元

本表及收費規則均爲原創模擬情境。

1. Which room satisfies all three requirements of Lin’s group?

A. Qinghe Room.

B. Yulin Room.

C. Songfeng Room.

D. Zhuying Room.

Your answer: _____

2. When should a first-time user arrive for a 10:00 reservation?

A. At 09:50 for the equipment orientation.

B. At 10:05 after the clearing period has finished.

C. At 10:00 because instruction is included in the booked time.

D. At 09:00 because every room requires an hour of preparation.

Your answer: _____

3. How does the speaker clarify the twenty-yuan charge?

A. It pays for the session and equipment service rather than a refundable deposit.

B. It applies only when the room’s maximum capacity is exceeded.

C. It buys a permanent copy of the room’s equipment.

D. It is a deposit automatically returned after any session.

Your answer: _____

4. What must be allowed for within a sixty-minute reservation?

A. An extra ten-minute orientation after the recording ends.

B. A free extension whenever the recording needs more time.

C. A mandatory sixty minutes of uninterrupted recording.

D. Five minutes for clearing up before the reserved period ends.

Your answer: _____

5. Why should users verify a personal copy of their files before leaving?

A. To increase the room’s permitted number of people.

B. To avoid relying on a public computer that will be cleared.

C. To turn a session charge into a refundable deposit.

D. To replace the equipment orientation with self-study.

Your answer: _____

Listening · L2

Making a uniform exchange usable

Questions 6–10

Use audio clip L2 or the corresponding part of the 25-minute practice track.

6. What change is central to this year’s exchange?

A. Requiring each student to donate before being allowed to try anything.

B. Collecting every donated garment without checking its condition.

C. Focusing on matching usable clothes to actual needs and access.

D. Replacing all size information with a count of stored items.

Your answer: _____

7. Why are measurements recorded instead of relying solely on letter-size labels?

A. Labels may correspond to different cuts in different years.

B. All students have requested the same size.

C. The school wants to stop students from trying clothes on.

D. Measuring a garment automatically repairs any damage.

Your answer: _____

8. What concern explains the decision not to ask about household income?

A. The organizers need to prove every participant has the same income.

B. Only people receiving formal assistance are allowed to collect clothes.

C. Every participant must explain why a new uniform is unaffordable.

D. People should be able to use the exchange without disclosing private circumstances.

Your answer: _____

9. What problem does the added evening period address?

A. A clash between the old collection time and some students’ classes.

B. The inability to measure clothes in daylight.

C. The need to increase the permitted size of donated coats.

D. A requirement that every student attend twice.

Your answer: _____

10. What will guide the next request for donations?

A. The sizes and types still needed by potential recipients.

B. The number of boxes that can be stacked in the storeroom.

C. A rule that each family must donate the same garment.

D. A target to exceed last year’s total regardless of fit.

Your answer: _____

Listening · L3

An invitation is not yet a confirmation

Questions 11–15

Use audio clip L3 or the corresponding part of the 25-minute practice track.

11. What is the initial misunderstanding between the students?

A. One assumes the event has already been cancelled.

B. One thinks the teacher has requested a different activity.

C. One believes the teacher has asked to prepare all the seats.

D. One treats a tentative reply as a definite agreement.

Your answer: _____

12. Why does the male speaker consider a follow-up question appropriate?

A. It removes the need to explain the planning situation.

B. It can force the teacher to choose the students' preferred time.

C. A casual invitation always requires an immediate answer.

D. The organizers have a practical reason to clarify attendance.

Your answer: _____

13. What does "留個餘地" mean in the suggested message?

A. Reserve extra floor space inside the activity room.

B. Allow the teacher to say that a decision is not yet possible.

C. Remove all deadlines and stop planning the event.

D. Assume the teacher will attend unless told otherwise.

Your answer: _____

14. Which message best follows the speakers' proposal?

A. "Please attend at our chosen time without further discussion."

B. "We have confirmed your place because you did not refuse."

C. "Would morning or afternoon work? If you are still unsure, please let us know."

D. "Your tentative reply means we have removed you permanently."

Your answer: _____

15. What principle concludes the discussion?

A. Once a name is written down, later changes should be ignored.

B. Clear arrangements and respect for another person's choice can support each other.

C. Organizers should interpret every ambiguous message on the sender's behalf.

D. The most polite response is always the most certain response.

Your answer: _____

Listening · L4

Keeping a classroom dataset interpretable

Questions 16–20

Use audio clip L4 or the corresponding part of the 25-minute practice track.

16. How should a blank entry in the usage-count column be interpreted?

A. As proof that the service was used exactly once.

B. As the average number of uses among other respondents.

C. As an unanswered item rather than a recorded zero.

D. As a duplicate that must always be deleted.

Your answer: _____

17. Before combining waiting-time files, what must students check?

A. Whether every blank can be replaced with the largest value.

B. Whether the recorded values use minutes or seconds.

C. Whether the original file can be discarded to save space.

D. Whether all participants have identical identification numbers.

Your answer: _____

18. Why can two rows with the same participant number both be valid?

A. They may describe visits on different dates.

B. The file requires identical copies of every response.

C. The number alone proves the rows concern different people.

D. The participant must have entered the same date twice.

Your answer: _____

19. Why is filtering preferred when comparing first-time visitors?

A. It permanently removes all missing responses.

B. It makes the source units automatically correct.

C. It preserves other records for later questions.

D. It changes repeat visits into first visits.

Your answer: _____

20. What information should accompany the final summary?

A. A claim that every unanswered item has been inferred correctly.

B. A statement that records with matching IDs were always removed.

C. Only the largest total, with all processing steps hidden.

D. An account of included records and the treatment of nonresponses.

Your answer: _____

Listening · L5

A family learns to keep in touch differently

Questions 21–25

Use audio clip L5 or the corresponding part of the 25-minute practice track.

21. Which assumption does the speaker reconsider?

A. Only people living in the same city can stay connected.

B. A fixed call must be cancelled whenever one person is busy.

C. Family members should never use recorded voice messages.

D. Longer simultaneous calls necessarily indicate a closer relationship.

Your answer: _____

22. What does the speaker learn about delayed replies?

A. They always mean the sender’s message has been rejected.

B. They require every family message to become urgent.

C. They may reflect practical circumstances rather than a lack of concern.

D. They prove that recorded messages cannot be understood.

Your answer: _____

23. Which arrangement helps the grandmother participate?

A. Replacing her account with someone else’s summary.

B. Leaving room for a slower speaker during the shared call.

C. Giving the fastest speaker every available minute.

D. Requiring all stories to be sent in writing only.

Your answer: _____

24. In this account, what does “惦記” most nearly express?

A. Keeping someone in mind with care and attention.

B. Demanding an immediate response to every message.

C. Counting how many minutes another person stays online.

D. Checking whether everyone has the same work schedule.

Your answer: _____

25. What is the presentation’s concluding recommendation?

A. Avoid setting any response deadline even for time-sensitive matters.

B. Adopt the same one-hour rule for every household.

C. Replace discussion with a ranking of message totals.

D. Discuss communication methods that let family members feel heard.

Your answer: _____

Reading · R1

Before the ending is discussed

Questions 26–30

p1 • 郵件一｜讀書會協調員致主持人許南

許南你好！週五晚的線上短篇讀書會原定四十五分鐘，每個人先談結局，再選最喜歡的人物。新加入的幾位成員只讀到一半，擔心提前知道情節就失去閱讀的樂趣。請你在週四前提出調整方案，既保持討論深度，也讓未讀完的人能參加。總時長仍爲四十五分鐘。 p2 • 郵件二｜許南迴復

老師您好！我建議前二十五分鐘只討論前半段，每個人選一處描寫提出問題，不要求先讀完全篇。後面二十分鐘再進入自願參加的結局討論；沒讀完的成員可以先離開，或者在不涉及結局的留言區談感受。這樣不必因爲進度不同就取消參加。

p3 • 開場時，我會明確說明兩個階段，並在引導頁上標出哪些鏈接涉及“劇透”。留言區也分開，避免結局內容混進去。我可以製作這張引導頁並提前核對鏈接。還有一件事想確認：大家手裏的版本頁碼是否一致？如果不同，我們用段落首句定位，而不要求每個人報同一頁數。討論需要共同的位置，但不一定需要完全相同的閱讀速度。

26. Why is a revised format requested for the book club?

A. To remove all discussion of characters from future meetings.

B. To include readers at different stages without prematurely revealing the ending.

C. To require unfinished readers to stop reading until the event ends.

D. To extend the meeting beyond its original scheduled duration.

Your answer: _____

27. What is proposed for the first twenty-five minutes?

A. Require everyone to explain the final scene in turn.

B. Discuss selected descriptions from the first half of the story.

C. Ask only members who have completed the story to speak.

D. Use the whole period to vote on whether the book should be finished.

Your answer: _____

28. What does “劇透” refer to on the proposed guide page?

A. A technical failure that prevents an online discussion from opening.

B. A request to replace written comments with spoken answers.

C. Information that reveals story developments before a reader reaches them.

D. An alternative edition with a different page size.

Your answer: _____

29. Which responsibility does Xu Nan offer to take on?

A. Prepare a guide page and verify the relevant links in advance.

B. Choose one official interpretation that every reader must accept.

C. Rewrite the ending so all editions use the same page numbers.

D. Cancel the later discussion whenever one member leaves early.

Your answer: _____

30. Why does Xu Nan ask whether everyone’s edition has matching page numbers?

A. To choose a reliable way for participants to locate the same passage.

B. To exclude editions printed in a different typeface.

C. To ensure the later segment lasts longer than the first one.

D. To judge which reader has bought the most expensive version.

Your answer: _____

Reading · R2

A shorter label is not the whole answer

Questions 31–35

p1 • 校園科學展的舊版說明牌文字很多，參觀者常在中途離開。展覽小組製作了新版：增加步驟圖，把長段落改成短標題和分段說明。試用後，有人說：“既然看完的人多了，以後所有說明只要越短越好。”小組沒有馬上接受這個結論。 p2 • 他們在兩個不同開放日各邀請一百位參觀者填寫簡短問卷，詢問是否讀到說明末尾，並記錄至少提過一個問題的人數。表中“完成閱讀”來自參觀者自報，不是理解能力測驗。同一人可能既報告讀完，也提出問題，不能把兩列人數直接相加當作不同人的總數。 p3 • 新版的兩項人數都上升了。記錄提問內容的同學發現，有些新問題是“我能不能換一個材料再試”，不只是“這句話什麼意思”。因此，提問增加未必說明介紹更難懂，也可能說明有人開始想繼續探索。不過，新版同時改變了長度、結構和圖片，不能單獨認定只是字數減少造成了變化。 p4 • 下一輪，小組打算保留關鍵步驟和必要解釋，再測試不同排版，而不是不斷刪字。報告也會說明兩個開放日的人並非同一批，不能據此保證每位參觀者都更理解。清楚的說明應讓人知道怎樣繼續，而不只是更快走到最後。

科學展覽的兩版說明牌記錄

版本	受訪人數	自報完成閱讀	至少提問一次
舊版	100人	60人	20人
新版	100人	82人	35人

原創模擬數據；完成閱讀爲自報，兩個開放日的受訪者不同。

31. What limits the interpretation of the “completed reading” figures?

A. They refer to the number of words printed on each label.

B. They count only the people who asked exactly one question.

C. They prove that every visitor understood the experiment equally well.

D. They report what visitors said, rather than directly measuring comprehension.

Your answer: _____

32. What change is shown for visitors who asked at least one question?

A. The figure rose from twenty to thirty-five.

B. The figure remained the same across both versions.

C. The figure fell from thirty-five to twenty.

D. Every visitor in both groups asked a question.

Your answer: _____

33. Why should the two new-version columns not be added to count distinct visitors?

A. Every question automatically cancels a completed-reading response.

B. The table contains no record of how many people were surveyed.

C. The same person may appear in both categories.

D. The two columns describe different schools in different cities.

Your answer: _____

34. What does the example about trying a different material suggest?

A. The number of questions alone proves the experiment is unsafe.

B. Some questions may show a wish to explore beyond the initial explanation.

C. All questions arise because the instructions are unreadable.

D. The new labels eliminated any need for further investigation.

Your answer: _____

35. What prevents the group from attributing the results solely to fewer words?

A. The group never recorded either reading completion or questions.

B. The survey excluded all visitors who read the new labels.

C. The new version used exactly the old wording and layout.

D. Length, structure and imagery changed together.

Your answer: _____

Reading · R3

Whose recipe counts as local?

Questions 36–40

p1 • 社區文化節籌備組想做一塊“本地味道”展板，請三位居民介紹家裏常做的拌麪。第一位喜歡加酸，第二位把蔬菜切得很細，第三位搬來不久，保留了原來家鄉的一種配料。整理資料的學生髮現，三個人都把自己的做法叫作“家常”，卻沒有一份完全相同的食譜。 p2 • 起初，有人建議投票選出最正宗的一份，其他做法就不寫了。居民楊阿姨問：“我們要介紹大家怎樣生活，還是要評出誰做得對？”她說，自己減去一種配料，是因爲家人的口味變了，並不表示忘記了以前怎樣做。另一位居民也提醒，某一家人的習慣不能自動代表整個地方。

p3 • 學生於是改變整理方式：每份做法都寫明提供者、他在什麼情況下做，以及本人怎樣解釋這個選擇。他們把“居民說這是母親教的”與“這就是全城最古老的做法”分開，後一句如果沒有其他資料，就不放進說明。記錄個人記憶有價值，但不能讓記憶承擔它沒有證明的結論。 p4 • 最終展板保留了三種做法，並邀請觀衆補充自己家的變化。籌備組沒有說所有變化都一樣，也沒有把不同直接排成高低。所謂本地生活，不只是找到一份永遠不變的標準答案，還可以看見住在這裏的人怎樣延續、調整和交流日常經驗。

36. Which view of local food does the article develop?

A. Everyday food traditions can include variation and change among residents.

B. A recipe has cultural value only when no ingredient has ever changed.

C. Residents who have moved recently cannot contribute to community life.

D. One household’s recipe should permanently replace all other versions.

Your answer: _____

37. Why does the revised display identify who supplied each recipe?

A. To guarantee that every contributor has lived there for the same number of years.

B. To let viewers rank families solely by the number of ingredients.

C. To connect an account to a particular person and context rather than imply universal agreement.

D. To avoid explaining the circumstances in which the food is prepared.

Your answer: _____

38. What concern does Yang raise about choosing the “最正宗” version by vote?

A. Voting would make the exhibition too long to print.

B. The vote could turn an account of varied lives into a judgment of who is right.

C. The residents have all forgotten how their families used to cook.

D. A majority vote would automatically establish the oldest recipe in the city.

Your answer: _____

39. Which statement best respects the evidence rule adopted by the students?

A. “All families must have changed the recipe for exactly the same reason.”

B. “This resident says she learned this version from her mother.”

C. “One contributor’s memory establishes the age of every local recipe.”

D. “This account proves that no other version existed anywhere in the city.”

Your answer: _____

40. How would the organizers most likely respond to a fourth resident’s different recipe?

A. Invite an explanation of that resident’s practice and include its context.

B. Reject it solely because it differs from the most common version.

C. Remove all previous accounts immediately.

D. Describe it as the city’s original recipe without checking sources.

Your answer: _____

Reading · R4

Learning to catch a missed line

Questions 41–45

p1 • 第一次排練，我把劇本背得很熟。對手演員每說一句，我就在心裏數着還差幾個字輪到自己。老師讓我們停下來，說我雖然沒念錯，卻像在等鬧鐘響。我不服氣：臺詞都對了，還能有什麼問題？ p2 • 下一次，我突然忘了一個詞，腦子裏只剩下劇本上空白的一塊。小周沒有停下來提醒“你忘詞了”，而是沿着角色的口氣問：“你剛纔不是還想把這封信交給她嗎？”我看見他手裏的信，想起人物此時要做的事，順着情節說出了下一句。 p3 • 老師說，接住同伴，不是隨便加話，更不是替對方把整場戲演完。我們重新覈對關鍵情節，約定可能用到的提示，也認真練習原來的臺詞。我這才明白，準備並沒有變得不重要，只是不能把準備理解爲關上耳朵、只等自己的那一段。 p4 • 正式演出時，小周比平時多停了一會兒。我沒有急着用自己的句子填滿安靜，而是看着他，等他把信慢慢放到桌上，才接着說。那一刻，我聽到的不只是下一句臺詞的開頭，也聽到了一個人正在作出的選擇。謝幕以後，我仍把劇本收得整整齊齊，只是不再認爲，背得最像錄音的人就一定演得最好。

41. During the first rehearsal, what occupies the narrator’s attention?

A. How the audience will interpret the final bow.

B. The moment when it will be time to recite the next memorized line.

C. Ways to remove all pauses from the other actor’s speech.

D. Whether the letter prop has been placed on the table.

Your answer: _____

42. How does Xiao Zhou help when the narrator forgets a word?

A. He stops the performance to announce the narrator's mistake to everyone.

B. He offers a question within the scene that reconnects the narrator with the character's purpose.

C. He discards the letter so that the original plot cannot continue.

D. He reads all of the narrator's remaining lines without allowing a response.

Your answer: _____

43. What does "接住同伴" mean in the teacher's explanation?

A. Physically carry an actor across the stage.

B. Repeat every word regardless of what the partner does.

C. Respond supportively while maintaining the shared scene and its purpose.

D. Take over the entire role so the partner never has to speak.

Your answer: _____

44. How does the narrator's understanding of preparation change?

A. All rehearsals are cancelled because one successful prompt is enough.

B. Memorizing any dialogue is now considered harmful.

C. Actors are encouraged to replace the agreed plot with unrelated improvisation.

D. Preparation comes to include listening and coordinating as well as knowing the script.

Your answer: _____

45. What does the narrator's response to the pause during the performance reveal?

A. A new willingness to attend to the partner's meaningful action.

B. A wish to make the partner seem less prepared.

C. An inability to remember where the letter belongs.

D. A decision to abandon the script permanently.

Your answer: _____

Reading · R5

An invitation to build a sound portrait

Questions 46–50

p1 • 校園廣播站徵集｜我身邊的聲音
一把鑰匙開門的聲音、一段練習中的樂句，或每天熟悉的另一種聲音，都可能帶出一個故事。請提交一段六十至九十秒的原創錄音，並配一百至一百五十字中文說明，介紹聲音來自哪裏、爲什麼值得聽。普通手機就能參與，不要求專業器材。

p2 • 本次徵集的規則是：錄到可辨認的他人談話前，請先獲得對方同意；無法確認時，換一個不含可辨認談話的素材。不要把網上下載的聲音當成自己的作品。提交文件可用 MP3 或 WAV，並附上作者希望使用的署名。 p3 • 截止時間爲五月五日十八點。系統顯示“已收到”只表示文件提交成功，不代表已被選播。若文件不能打開，工作人員會通知作者，作者仍須在截止前補交可播放版本。我們將於五月十二日發送反饋；入選片段會在作者確認署名後用於本次校園廣播專題。

p4 • 評選關注聲音與說明怎樣共同表現一個具體經驗，而不是誰錄得最響，或設備最貴。請保留原始文件，並在說明最後留下可聯繫的校內郵箱。以上時間與規則僅用於這項原創模擬徵集。

46. What is the central aim of the sound submission?

A. To measure which student can produce the loudest noise.

B. To compare the prices of professional recording devices.

C. To use an original sound and contextual writing to convey a particular experience.

D. To reproduce an online recording with a different filename.

Your answer: _____

47. What should a student do if permission for identifiable conversation cannot be confirmed?

A. Assume a successful upload supplies the missing permission.

B. Replace the contributor’s name with the name of the broadcaster.

C. Submit it anonymously and omit the contextual explanation.

D. Choose material without identifiable conversation instead.

Your answer: _____

48. How are May 5 and May 12 related in the notice?

A. The first is a rehearsal date; the second is the deadline for initial entries.

B. Both are interchangeable dates for guaranteed broadcasting.

C. May 12 automatically extends every unreadable file’s deadline.

D. The first is the submission deadline; the second is the planned feedback date.

Your answer: _____

49. If a submitted audio file cannot be opened, what does the notice require?

A. Wait until after feedback and assume the original entry has been selected.

B. Buy professional equipment and abandon the original recording.

C. Provide a playable replacement before the submission deadline.

D. Send only the written explanation after the deadline.

Your answer: _____

50. Which conclusion is supported by an “已收到” message?

A. The author no longer needs to confirm the intended credit.

B. The file was submitted, while selection is still undecided.

C. The entry will be broadcast regardless of its content.

D. The piece has won because its recording is louder than others.

Your answer: _____

Reading · R6

Making a changed meeting point clear

Questions 51–55

p1 • 消息一｜活動協調員請學生檢查通知
小禾，集合點臨時換了，我準備在羣裏寫：“明天照常，換到新地點，晚到自己找隊伍。”老成員應該知道新地點在哪裏。請你看看，新加入的成員能不能據此安排行程。報名和分工都不變，只改集合位置。 p2 • 消息二｜小禾回覆

老師，我建議直接寫：“六月十三日十四點在體育館東門集合，十四點十分出發。原主樓北門因施工停用。本次報名和分工不變。遲到者請先聯繫協調員確認隊伍位置，不要獨自追趕。”這樣第一次參加的人也能找到入口，而不必猜大家說的新地點是哪兒。

p3 • 我把“明天”換成具體日期，是因爲有人可能隔天纔看到轉發。請您確認這份版本後，我們可以把它置頂，並在舊通知下標明“集合點已更新，請看置頂”。只轉發一張沒有日期的舊截圖，容易讓不同成員拿着不同信息出門。我願意覈對羣裏的最終版本，但地點是否正式可用，還需要您向場地負責人確認。

51. Which arrangements are explicitly unchanged?

A. The use of the main building’s north entrance.

B. The location named in the earlier notice.

C. Registration and assigned responsibilities.

D. Every participant’s personal travel route.

Your answer: _____

52. Why does Xiao He replace “tomorrow” with a calendar date?

A. To avoid stating any precise departure time.

B. To make the old entrance usable again.

C. To indicate that the event will happen every day.

D. To keep the message clear when it is read or forwarded later.

Your answer: _____

53. What should a late participant do under the revised instructions?

A. Head alone toward where the group might have gone.

B. Assume registration and responsibilities have been cancelled.

C. Contact the coordinator first to establish the group’s location.

D. Return to the closed north entrance and wait indefinitely.

Your answer: _____

54. How does Xiao He suggest handling outdated notices?

A. Mark the update on the old notice and direct readers to the pinned version.

B. Let each member choose whichever meeting point seems familiar.

C. Keep forwarding undated screenshots as the primary instruction.

D. Erase every discussion of the change without posting a final version.

Your answer: _____

55. What makes the revised announcement more useful to a first-time participant?

A. It replaces confirmed venue information with a familiar old screenshot.

B. It gives a specific place, date, timing, and a procedure for an exception.

C. It assumes every reader already knows what “the new place” means.

D. It removes the distinction between arrival and departure.

Your answer: _____